

"QUOTES"

Quotations tell us what has been said and who said it. They can help to tell the story by giving the reader the opinions of the people involved.

Eg. Class teacher for Year 3 and 4, Mrs Jones said "They are a lovely class of children and I really like teaching them."

- "It was the scariest moment of my life!" the 28 year old home owner told us.
- "They're lucky to be alive!" said Sam Fenton, (35) Chief Fire Officer for Greater Manchester Fire Service

Harry Potter author JK Rowling

Author JK Rowling has promised fans that her next published book will be for children.

The Harry Potter writer was talking to an audience at the Cheltenham Literature Festival.

"I think probably the next thing I write, or the next thing I publish, will be for children," she said.

She told fans that she had a "number of ideas on my laptop", but wouldn't reveal the details about what she has been working on.

The award winner also said that the book would be for "younger children than the Harry Potter series."

It has been 15 years since the author has spoken to fans at the

“ I know what my next book for adults will be, and I have a number for children I'm working on
